A community can make a difference ...YOU did!

During the past 25 years more than 35,000 people have come to SBAP asking for help. We have been there for them because of you.

25 Years of Rebuilding Lives: highlights...

1983 A group of concerned local citizens hold first organizational meetings and identify the need for crisis services for battered women. Susan B. Anthony Project is incorporated. Agency employs one part-time organizer.

1984 Sexual Assault Crisis Services are added and Susan B. Anthony Project becomes a member of the Connecticut Sexual Assault Crisis Services.

1985 Susan B. Anthony Project opens its shelter.

1987 STRIVE (Seeking to Realize Independent Values and Esteem) program added to provide support services to women in transition.

1989 Susan B. Anthony Project secures State of Connecticut funding to purchase a 4-family house and create Susan B. Anthony Project’s Sojourner Truth Transitional Living Program.

1993 Susan B. Anthony Project purchases property at 434 Prospect Street for office and counseling center.

1994 Polly’s Dream thrift shop (named for the dream of Polly Doremus) opens.

1999 Susan B. Anthony Project Board completes a 5-year strategic plan which identifies the need for improved facilities and financial independence as top priorities.

2003 Susan B. Anthony Project receives federal funding to support outreach into rural northwestern Connecticut and form the Community Partnership Team and coordinated community response to domestic violence.

Initiation of Rebuilding Lives Capital Campaign. Goal $2,500,000.

2005 Susan B. Anthony Project secures $275,000 Kresge Foundation Challenge Grant.

2006 Susan B. Anthony Project exceeds campaign goal, raising $2,780,000. Moves into new Counseling and Advocacy Center.

2007 Susan B. Anthony Project receives federal grant to expand Transitional Living Program for survivors of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault and stalking.

Thank you to our Founders... dedicated and visionary leaders.

Founder Polly Doremus, 1st executive director Claudette Baril and founder Gillian Hannah.

A woman who found the strength to reclaim her life thanks Susan B. Anthony Project

As I gratefully look at my life now, compared to what it was a few years ago, I realized that a thank-you to your organization is long overdue. I was in a 20+ year abusive relationship. But because I was not physically harmed, I did not identify it as abuse. My first marriage was full of physical abuse, and because my second husband did not attack me physically, I didn’t realize that his actions were also abusive and equally damaging. I just attributed it to a rocky relationship and alternated between wanting to leave and trying to “fix” it.

It wasn’t until I took a brochure from a volunteer at the post office in Torrington and read the many forms abuse can take that I finally admitted to myself that my husband was an abuser in every way except physically. Once my eyes were open, and I identified the situation, I knew I had no choice but to leave. During the transition my husband threatened to burn the house down while I slept, and alternated between trying to reconcile and attacking me verbally at every opportunity. I was finally able to convince him to put the house on the market; it sold, and I finally had the funds to leave. Because many of our problems were financial, the thought of getting some money overrode his desire to hang on to our marriage.

I am now living far away from CT and cannot believe the difference in my life. I still don’t have the self-esteem to try another relationship, but perhaps in time I will. For now, the peace I have in my life is priceless. Your brochure helped more than you can ever know, and I hope you continue to distribute it. You probably have no idea how many lives you have touched and, like mine, have helped save. And there are so many more who can benefit from what you do. The most important thing, besides giving a woman courage, is that it identifies all kinds of abuse and hopefully will alert women to the signs before they get too involved in a relationship.

Thanks again.

“Your brochure helped more than you can ever know, and I hope you continue to distribute it”

Please invite a SBAP Community Educator to your school, church or civic group to share information about how to identify and end domestic violence.

Marlene & Chris — Connecticut’s Outstanding Volunteer Fundraisers

In April 2008, the Association of Fundraising Professionals (AFP) honored Marlene & Chris Smith of Washington, CT as Connecticut’s Outstanding Volunteer Fundraisers.

The Smiths were nominated for the award by Barbara Spiegel, Susan B. Anthony Project Executive Director, who said “For ten years, Marlene Smith has worked tirelessly on behalf of Susan B. Anthony Project serving on the Board of Directors. She has been Board President since 2002. Marlene also co-chaired the successful Rebuilding Lives Capital Campaign. Chris Smith was a visionary member of the Rebuilding Lives Leadership Committee and is on the Susan B. Anthony Project Advisory Board.”

The Smiths are a fundraising team like no other. They believe in the organization’s mission and are absolutely unselfish in giving their time and resources to Susan B. Anthony Project.

Award-winning Authors Speak at Luncheon
Saturday, November 8, 2008 at Noon

Katrina Kittle is the author of Traveling Light, Two Truths and a Lie and most recently, The Kindness of Strangers, which won the Great Lakes Book Award for Fiction. After six years as an English and theater teacher at the Miami Valley School, Katrina has embarked on what she is calling her “year as a gypsy”.

Anne Roiphe, noted feminist author and commentator, is the author of fifteen books, including EPILOGUE A Memoir, which is her most recent, Up the Sandbox, Fruitful, and 1185 Park Avenue, which chronicles her New York City upbringing in an affluent Jewish household, where Roiphe reveals the pain of living with an alcoholic father and an abused mother.

Brenda Wineapple, the award-winning author of biographies of Janet Flanner, Gertrude and Leo Stein, and Nathaniel Hawthorne will discuss her latest work, White Heat: The Friendship of Emily Dickinson and Thomas Wentworth Higginson. She has received fellowships from the John Simon Guggenheim Memorial Foundation and the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Moderator — Regina Barreca, deemed a “feminist humor maven” by Ms. Magazine, is the author of They Used to Call Me Snow White, But I Drifted, Perfect Husbands and Other Fairy Tales, and Babes in Boyland. Barreca is Professor of English Literature and Feminist Theory at the University of Connecticut and on the Susan B. Anthony Project Advisory Board.
